Know the Equation

The above mathematical equation represents perfect health from a balanced biochemical perspective. Just as 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit represents the perfect temperature (resistance) for a healthy body, this equation represents the minimum cellular resistance (energy flow) required for life.

Multi-dimensional Integrative Healing

The most comprehensive, truly holistic modality; integrating technology, science and nutrition to provide an unparalleled understanding of the human condition and its potential for healing the spiritual, mental, emotional and physical being.

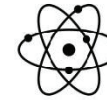

BIA Integrative Software

The only pre-diagnostic client record management system that provides automated reports in an easy to read format. Evaluate immunological & metabolic functions, compute biological age, energy reserves, speed of decline & balance ratios. Identify and chart adverse relationships, pathological tendencies, stress patterns and more. Includes client specific profiles indicating which nutritional supplements, homeopathic remedies, raw juice therapy, or dietary and lifestyle recommendations are necessary to adjust and balance the body chemistry — all in various file formats and print options.

“In one test of 10,000 terminally ill patients only 5 failed to respond.”

Dr. Carey Reams

Ionization, as it relates to nutrition, is the process of breaking down food into useable life energy and then reconstructing that energy on our own frequency to form new cells. To achieve success in nutrition it is necessary to have the ability to measure the cause and effect of applied nutrition.

Carey Reams, Physician, Physicist, Bio-chemist, Agriculturist and Einsteinian mathematician - developed a simple ingenious urine/saliva analysis method that not only measures the cause and effect of applied nutrition but gives us the ability to see the process and detect potential health problems prior to symptoms appearing.

Reams' research in the field of nutrition has revolutionized the way we understand and treat disease. Based on Reams' principles of science and nutrition we now have a pre-diagnostic modality.

Integrating Reams' principles with our proprietary software the BIA gives us the ability to mathematically analyze an individual's body chemistry, making it possible to detect with remarkable accuracy, the location and severity of any energy loss / disease process.

Health is a state of balance, wherein energy flows uninterrupted through body, soul & spirit.

*BIA gives us
the ability to measure this process - taking the guessing out of health care.*
